

Medicare Levy Surcharge

If the government thinks you're earning enough to afford private hospital cover, but you don't have it, you'll be subject to the Medicare Levy Surcharge.

That means you'll be charged 1% of your taxable income.

But, you can avoid paying the surcharge by taking out hospital cover.

You'll no longer pay the surcharge, plus you'll get all the perks of private health insurance.

Frank recommends Frank hospital cover, of course.

<http://www.frankhealthinsurance.com.au/frankview>